

New series from Ashgate...

Global Law and Sustainable Development

Series editor:

Paolo Farah, West Virginia University, USA and gLAWcal - Global Law Initiatives for Sustainable Development, UK

This series provides a new focus on the relationship between international law, economy and trade, with special attention to what are commonly referred to as non-trade-related values and concerns. Through research and policy analysis the series sheds new light on a range of issues relating to good governance and human rights in the widest sense. It is held that the values supporting these issues are directly affected by the global expansion of world trade and need to be upheld in order to balance the excesses of globalization. Multidisciplinary in approach, the series integrates studies from scholars and researchers with a range of different backgrounds and interdisciplinary expertise from law, economics, political science, and sociology through to history, philosophy and natural science.

FORTHCOMING titles in the series in 2015 and 2016:

The Reform of International Economic Governance

Edited by Antonio Segura Serrano, University of Granada, Spain

India's Foreign Economic Policy

Deciphering the Law, Economics and Politics

Edited by Julien Chaisse, Chinese University of Hong Kong and Debashis Chakraborty, Indian Institute of Foreign Trade, India

China's Influence on Non Trade Concerns in International Economic Law

Edited by Paolo Farah, West Virginia University, USA and gLAWcal - Global Law Initiatives for Sustainable Development, UK and Elena Cima, Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies, Switzerland

To submit a proposal

The series editor currently welcomes proposals for this new series. To submit a book proposal to the series, please email Paolo Farah: research@glawcal.org.uk or pdfarah@mail.wvu.edu

ASHGATE
www.ashgate.com

